Dear Mr Sample

Proposed transfer of business to Royal London DAC, a subsidiary of Royal London

You currently have one or more policies with us, 'The Royal London Mutual Insurance Society Limited' (Royal London) which is held in the Royal London Main Fund.

After the UK leaves the European Union, it may not be possible for Royal London to administer policies which were originally sold outside the UK. So that Royal London can continue to administer policies such as yours, which were originally sold in Ireland, we are proposing to transfer such policies to Royal London Financial Services DAC (Royal London DAC). This is a new subsidiary of Royal London registered in Ireland. We propose to transfer around 55,000 policies like yours, along with around 400,000 other policies sold in Ireland and Germany. A breakdown of the transferring policies can be found on page 9 of the enclosed Policyholder Booklet.

In order to sell life insurance in Ireland, Royal London DAC must be authorised to do so by the Central Bank of Ireland. We expect this to happen later in 2018. From then Royal London DAC will start selling new protection business in Ireland.

Why are we writing to you?

This letter and the enclosed Policyholder Booklet set out what the proposed transfer would mean for you. If you have any concerns, the Policyholder Booklet explains how to raise them. If you are content with the proposed transfer you don't need to do anything.

The type of policy you hold with us :

Royal London Protection (Ireland)

If you hold another type of policy affected by the proposed transfer, you will be sent a separate letter

In summary:

- We are proposing to transfer your policy to Royal London DAC, a new subsidiary of Royal London registered in Ireland
- If you have any concerns, the Policyholder Booklet explains how to raise them. If you are content with the proposed transfer you don't need to do anything
- It won't change the terms and conditions, premiums, contractual benefits or how your policy is serviced
- There is more information on our website at royallondon.ie/transfer
- If you have any questions, please call us on 1850 453 551 between 8am and 6pm Monday to Friday, unless it's a bank holiday in Ireland.

How would the proposed transfer affect you?

The proposed transfer is expected to happen on 7 February 2019.

If the proposed transfer takes effect, it will mean that:

- Royal London DAC will replace Royal London as your insurer under this policy
- as an Irish insurance company, following its authorisation, Royal London DAC will be regulated by the Central Bank of Ireland and not by the UK Prudential Regulation Authority or Financial Conduct Authority
- your policy will be transferred to a fund within Royal London DAC, called the Royal London DAC Open Fund
- protection under the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS), the UK's statutory fund of last resort for customers of financial services firms, will no longer be available. We explain more about this below.

The proposed transfer will not change:

- your policy number
- the terms and conditions of your policy
- your premiums or the contractual benefits of your policy
- the way your policy is serviced or administered
- your rights in respect of data protection under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)
- the address and telephone number you need if you want to ask anything about your policy
- your right to make a complaint to the Financial Services and Pensions Ombudsman Service in Ireland.

Will the loss of Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) protection impact me?

The FSCS protects policyholders if an insurer is unable, or likely to become unable to pay claims against it (for example, because it has become insolvent). FSCS protection only applies to customers of UK authorised financial services firms. There is no equivalent protection for customers of Irish authorised financial services firms.

FSCS protection will no longer be available after your policy transfers to Royal London DAC.

The Independent Expert, who we have provided more information about in the next section, confirms in his report that the transfer will not have a material adverse effect on the security of benefits or the future benefit expectations for you or other policyholders of Royal London. He has considered any loss of FSCS protection in reaching this conclusion. The Independent Expert confirms that Royal London and Royal London DAC are forecast to be well capitalised entities and the likelihood of insolvency is, in his opinion, a remote event. In addition to this:

- Royal London DAC is subject to a variety of Irish and European laws and regulations which require Royal London DAC to hold enough funds to pay policyholders' claims. Royal London will provide Royal London DAC with enough funding to meet these legal and regulatory requirements at the outset
- Irish insolvency rules aim to protect policyholders of insolvent insurance companies in Ireland. Although these rules do not provide the same level of protection as FSCS, they are intended to reduce the need for an equivalent protection scheme in Ireland.

How will my interests be protected?

Your interests and the interests of other policyholders are protected by a rigorous approval process that includes:

- consideration of the proposed transfer by the UK High Court, which must be satisfied that it is fair to all Royal London and Royal London DAC policyholders before it can approve the proposed transfer. The Court hearing is expected to take place on 31 January 2019. A copy of the Legal Notice is shown in Section 7 of the Policyholder Booklet.
- consideration by an Independent Expert of the likely effect of the proposed transfer on all Royal London and Royal London DAC policyholders. The independent expert has been selected on the basis of his experience and independence, and has been approved by the Prudential Regulation Authority in consultation with the Financial Conduct Authority. The Independent Expert has separately considered the proposed transfer and concluded that it will not have a material adverse effect on the security of benefits or the future benefit expectations of the policyholders of Royal London or Royal London DAC. The Independent Expert's report is summarised in Section 6 of the Policyholder Booklet.

What should you do?

- Please read the enclosed Policyholder Booklet carefully.
- If you are concerned that the proposed transfer could adversely affect you, you have the right to raise your concerns with us or with the UK High Court at the hearing scheduled for 31 January 2019. If you raise any concerns with us, we'll share these with the Financial Conduct Authority, Prudential Regulation Authority, the Independent Expert and with the UK High Court. We explain how to do this in Section 1 of the enclosed Policyholder Booklet.
- If you are content with the proposed transfer, you don't need to do anything.

You can read more about the proposed transfer on our website at royallondon.ie/transfer. Any changes such as to the Court hearing date, further information or reports, will also be made available on our website before the Court hearing.

If you have any questions about the proposed transfer, please call us on 1850 453 551 between 8am and 6pm Monday to Friday, unless it's a bank holiday in Ireland.

Yours sincerely

Phil Loney
Group Chief Executive
